MONEY, BONDS AND STOCKS.

A Dull Day in New York, the Dealings, However, Showing a Strong Tone. NEW YORK, Oct. 4.-Money on call was easy at 21 @3 per cent., the last loan being made at 3, closing offered at 11 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 42 @7 per cent.

Sterling exchange was dull but steady at $4.83} for sixty-day bills and $4.87$ demand." The total sales of stocks to-day were 224,755 shares, including the following: Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 9,300; Erie, 4,300; Hocking Valley, 3,530; Lake Shore, 7,740; Louisville & Nashville, 4,384; Missouri Pacific, 3,670; Northwestern, 4,985; New Jersey Central, 4,050; Northern Pacific preferred, 4,422; Oregon Transcontinental, 6,600; Reading, 41,720; Richmond & West Point 10,515, St. Paul, 18,670; Texas Pacific, 3,280; Union Pacific, 12,127; Western Union, 23,571. The stock market went back to duliness again to-day, the transactions being the smallest for any full day for over two weeks; but the tone of the dealings was strong throughout, and almost no set-back occurred, the result of the day's trading being to leave nearly the entire list fractionally higher than last evening. There was some selling by the foreigners at the open-ing on higher rates for money on the other side, and the advance in the Bank of England's rate of discount, but the latter, as the result showed, had been completely discounted, and no stocks coming out from demestic sources, the foreigners became buyers in turn and aided the advance, which had already begun. There was absolutely no bressure to sell stocks, but there was considertole quiet buying, accompanied by confidentbearish at first switched over to the "bull" side. The outside influences affecting the market were few, but the subsidence of the excitement in the wheat market did something to restore confidence, and the heavy offerings of bonds to the treasury gave hope to the "bulls," though there was afterward some disappointment over the small number accepted. There was very little feature in the market, but the coal stocks occupied a more prominent position than for some time past, and Jersey Central became conspic-uous for strength. The Gould stocks also became conspicuous, but outside of Western Union there was no special movement in them. The grangers were quiet, and so were the Southern stocks, which showed some weakness, with the exception of Norfolk & Western preferred, and the East Tennessee stocks. The feature of the day, however, was Cotton-seed Oil, which made a further advance of about 2 points on a large business. There are no new developments in regard to the property, and the officials are more than usually secretive. The declines from last evening's figures at the opening this morning extended to | per cent, but the market developed a strong tone immediately, though the progress made in the upward direction was slow, and never in but a few stocks reached more than I per cent. There was a steady diminution in the volume of business throughout the day, though there were spells of activity. A slight reaction occurred in the last hour, but the close was quiet and firm at or near the best prices of the day. The final changes, with a few unimportant exceptions, are in the direction of higher prices, though the only one for more than a fraction was in Jersey Central, which is up 12 per cent In the railroad bond market the Chesapeake & Ohio issues were again active, but the rest of the list was, like the share list, quiet to dull, with little movement and no feature beyond a firm tene, which lasted throughout the day. The sales for the day were $1,357,000, and the Chesapeake & Ohio certificates contributed $140,000, and the surrency certificates $119,000 to that amount. The most important advance was in Minneapolis & St. Louis equipment

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.-Trading in wheat was light to-day, and there was a general disposition to let the market alone, at least for the present. The market is too uncertain, and after the occurrences of last month and the situation generally, operators deem it prudent to hold off Domestic markets were all lower and the volume of speculative trading generally lighter than for some days past. The opening was again unsettled, with prices varying fully ic in different parts of the crowd, but not nearly so excited as yesterday. The first trading was from to le above yesterday's closing, but sold off 3te for December, and 2c for May, fluctuated frequently within the established range, and the closing was from 32 wle below yesterday's closing figures, except May, which closed fully le higher. Corn was quite active and unsettled most part of the session, though there were periods when the market ruled comparatively quiet. The feeling developed during the early part of the session was weak, prices selling off 2e from the opening, which was ic better than the closing price of yesterday. The market then reacted lie, ruled steady and closed with October ic, November ic, and December ic higher than yesterday. November, as on yesterday, received the most attention, and trading in this month at times was exciting. The weak feeling early was attributed to free selling of a heavy local operator and to the liberal offerings of several receiving houses, especially of May there being considerable for sale around 39c. At the decline the operator heretofore mentioned turned buyer and prices quickly reacted 1 c. The easier tone in wheat had a tendency to increase offerings. Oats were easy. A decline in other markets was the principal cause for the change, and to some extent local operators were realizing. Under these conditions prices sought a lower level, and No. 2 cats for all deliveries declined, ranging & 20 lower. May was the least affected, prices for this future being even a shade better early and closing without change. A good business was transacted in pork, but an unsettled feeling prevailed. January received the most attention and fluctuated freely within a range of 20c. Opened 74c lower, advanced 10c, receded 10c, appreciated 20c, and closed steady. Trading in other futures was light, and October developed decided weakness and declined 25c from yesterday's close. The market was moderately active for short ribs, but unsettled, and price changes were confined to a fair rance. Offerings were liberal and prices ranged lower. Lard received moderate attention, but trading centered chiefly in November and January. Offerings were not large, and a steady feeling existed on the more de-ferred futures, but on October was weaker and prices lower. The leading futures ranged as

INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS A Healthy Volume of Business in Progress-Prices as a Rule Steady.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 4.

In all departments the volume of business is apparently healthy, and with this there is s a steadiness to prices which creates a confidence which is certainly very desirable. Wholesale men almost without exception report that bills are being met very promptly, and few bad debts are being made. While some of the less conservative merchants are not pleased that the retail merchants prefer to make their purchases only to meet immediate requirements, it is evidence that the retail merchant does not mean to buy more than he can pay for. Prices to-day as a rule were steady and firm. Dry goods men were quite busy, and prices are steady on all lines of goods. Druggists are experiencing a good trade, and on most articles they handle fair margins are realized. In the recent revisions of quotations of the drug market several advances were made. The grocers are busy. Weakness is still a characteristic of the sugar market, while coffees are very firm. Prices of canned goods are not fully adjusted, still there is liberal inquiry as to the future of the market. Produce men are having a good business. Some choice apples are coming on to the market, and the re-ceipts of potatoes, both Irish and sweet, are larger, while prices rule steady at the quotations of several days past. There are but few peaches on the market, and good fruit readily brings $3 per bushel. Melons are about off the market, and it is difficult to dispose of the few which ar coming in. Millers report flour active and prices advancing.

Catharine Owen, in the Home-Maker. Fine, well-fed beef may be known by yellowish-white fat-very firm, and of a fine-grained bright-red lean. Very good beef is sometimes not very fat. That is to say, an excellent steak may only have a half-inch band of fat round it, or even less. instead of the inch that the butcher is proud to point out; but this narrow band must be fat, and not gristle. Some-times meat, instead of being covered with fat, is covered with a quarter of an inch of gristle, at others there will be the gristle, but it will have an outside layer of fat. These indications do not always show bad meat, only that it is secondclass. This is the case when the grain of the meat is sood, and the kidney fat firm and good. Where the gristle is found in conjunction with a dull red, or, as we may borrow a term from art to describe it accurately, a darkish terra cotta red, the meat is to be avoided altogether. To return to fine meat-the color differs in different parts. The leg, neck and coarser parts are, as a rule, darker than prime parts. The sirloin is a rosy red, the rib a shade darker, mottled with white fat, and without a vein running through it. The round is of a bright juicy-looking red on the upper or tender side -(which is really the inside of the leg, and less exposed in the animal to use and weather), the lower side-"the vein" butchers call it, is paler and dryer. In a really fine round of beef the blood will coze from the grain as it is cut. The best cuts from such a round, if the ox has been killed long enough, surpass any other steak in flavor and will be quite as tender. The best steaks are those which are cut before the broad band of fat is reached, but excellent ones are cut for three or four inches after this; then the round begins to decrease in size, the meat gets darker, the grain of it coarser and suitable for a la mode beef-stews, etc., but not for steaks.
